

COVID-19: PROLONGED VIRAL SHEDDING IN AN HIV PATIENT WITH LITERATURE REVIEW OF RISK FACTORS FOR PROLONGED VIRAL SHEDDING AND ITS IMPLICATIONS FOR ISOLATION STRATEGIES

Muhammad Yousaf¹, Mansoor Hameed ¹, HUSSAM ALSOUB¹, Mohamad Khatib¹, Wasim Jamal ¹, and Mushtaq Ahmad¹

¹Hamad Medical Corporation

November 5, 2020

Abstract

We present prolonged viral shedding in an immunocompromised HIV patient with a literature review of risk factors for prolonged viral shedding and its implications for isolation strategies. We explore the role of PCR-CT-value (cycle threshold) as an instrument for guiding isolation policies and the impact of HIV on Covid-19.

Hosted file

Covid-19 HIV Viral shedding.pdf available at <https://authorea.com/users/373253/articles/490998-covid-19-prolonged-viral-shedding-in-an-hiv-patient-with-literature-review-of-risk-factors-for-prolonged-viral-shedding-and-its-implications-for-isolation-strategies>

