

Spinal cord stimulation for the treatment of refractory stump pain: A case report

qi-wang cao<sup>1</sup>, yi yi<sup>1</sup>, ping-ping luo<sup>1</sup>, and xudong song<sup>1</sup>

<sup>1</sup>Hunan Provincial People's Hospital

May 20, 2022

Abstract

A 51-year-old woman with stump pain was hospitalized in our department. After discussion with our medical team, a spinal cord stimulation treatment plan was developed. The operation went smoothly. After 12 mo of follow-up, the pain was significantly relieved and good results were achieved.

Hosted file

SCS-2022-4-21.doc available at <https://authorea.com/users/483983/articles/569895-spinal-cord-stimulation-for-the-treatment-of-refractory-stump-pain-a-case-report>